Biography

David Allan Hubbard (B.A., B.D., Th.M., Ph.D., D.D., L.H.D., Lit.D.) (1928-1993), an ordained minister of the American Baptist Church, was a member of the third entering class of Fuller Theological Seminary, a 1952 graduate. He began his career as a professor of biblical studies at Westmont College in Santa Barbara; he served Fuller Theological Seminary as professor of Old Testament and then as president from 1963-1993. During these years he led the school to become one of the world's largest interdenominational seminaries, adding in 1965 a School of Psychology and a School of World Mission (now School of Intercultural Studies) to complement the School of Theology.

An Old Testament scholar, Hubbard wrote four commentaries on the Old Testament and served as a general editor of the Word Biblical Commentary until his death. He published 36 books in all, including With Bands of Love, Psalms for All Seasons, What We Evangelicals Believe, The Holy Spirit in Today's World, The Second Coming and The Practice of Prayer. He was widely acknowledged as a leader in the evangelical community, in theological scholarship and in higher education and was in constant demand as a speaker and lecturer. He also played a key role in bringing together previously separate segments of the evangelical community in new coalitions and in encouraging women to develop their gifts through the Office of Women's Concerns and the mandatory use of inclusive language at Fuller Theological Seminary.

As a statesman for the evangelical community he built bridges with the Jewish and Catholic communities and led Fuller through the inerrancy/infallibility controversy of the 1960's. Again at the forefront of a controversial issue among Christians, Hubbard voted against mandating equal time for creationism in school texts during his time as a member of the California Board of Education, 1972-1975.

Scope and Content

The office files of David Allan Hubbard, President of Fuller Seminary from 1963 to 1993, includes correspondence, minutes, reports, legal documents, publications, photographs, conference records, speaking engagements, and other materials which document his leadership of the Seminary, his community activism and his scholarly endeavors.

The President’s papers were gathered, stored and preserved by his assistants at the Seminary in Pasadena. The collection complements Collection 18: Papers of David Allan Hubbard, which are of a more personal nature, having been stored at his home in Santa Barbara and given by his widow in 1999.

The collection of the Presidential papers includes Fuller Seminary Administrative documents including minutes, faculty and personnel files, campus organization files, campus property documents, Trustee files, Annual reports to the Board; a file of issues Hubbard dealt with as President of Fuller, the development of the "Mission Beyond the Mission" statement, basic biographical material, personal and institutional correspondence, scripts for the Joyful Sound radio programs, a small collection of his writings, his retirement and emeritus correspondence, and documents concerning his sudden death, including condolences and programs for memorial services at Fuller and at Montecito Covenant Church, Santa Barbara.

Additional records were later added regarding celebrations in honor of his formative Presidency in 1993, 2008 and finally in 2009, with the opening of the David Allan Hubbard Library.

Series 2, Subseries 8: Development

When David Allan Hubbard began his presidency, Don Weber was Director of Public Relations and Development, assisted by Field Representative Robert Flatley and Alumni chairman Harry Kawahara, with the addition of a News Bureau in 1965, under the direction of Roy Brewer. In 1966 an assistant for PR and Development was added, Bernice Spencer. In 1968 Charles Ferguson became Director of Public Affairs, assisted by Bernice Spencer. In 1972 Richard Laine became Director of Development, with Larry Burr assisting in Church Relations and Bernice Spencer in Publications and Alumni Affairs. Also in 1972 Development gained a Director of Planned Giving, Kirby Taylor, and Marjorie Carlson became Manager of Publications and Information Services. In 1975 Continuing Education and Alumni Affairs were combined under the leadership of Al Jepson. (His papers are part of Series 2, subseries 7: Continuing and Extended Education). In 1978 the Administration was divided into Schools and Offices. Frederick Mintz headed the Development Office as Director of Development with eleven assistants, associates and directors of specific areas;
Alumni Affairs was moved back into the Development Office and combined with Student Recruitment under the leadership of Peggy Perry and Church Relations was headed by George Ford. In 1980 Hugh James joined the Development Office as Director of Publications and Information Services, Laura Ferguson assisting, and Alumni and Church relations were combined under George Ford. In 1982 the head of the Development Office was Vice President of Development, Sam Delcamp, with eight assistants, associates and directors, including Director of Capitol Gifts, Howard Taylor and Communications and Public Affairs, Hugh James, as well as a new department coordinator for Media Services, Ross Arnold. Alumni and Church relations remained combined, now lead by Marlon Sandlin. In 1983 Development gained a Director of Annual Giving Programs Eugene Stoeckly. From 1984 – 1987 Howard Taylor was Director of Development, under VP Sam Delcamp. From 1985 on, Alumni relations was a separate office, still part of the Development Office. In 1987 Howard Taylor was made VP when Sam Delcamp moved to the Fuller Foundation, and remained so throughout Hubbard’s Presidency. In 1986 Church Relations moved from the Development Office to the Office of the Provost, an office created in 1974, but limited to academic administration until 1986 when Lawrence DenBesten was made Provost. In 1987 the Office of Church Relations was created with Jack Rogers in leadership. That year Bob Munger was made Chaplain to the Faculty and Pastor at Large, within this office which also included the Offices of Presbyterian Ministries under Gloryanna Hees, of the Reformed Church in America under Ken Van Wyk, the Office of Christian Community under Gary Sattler, Dean of Chapel Robert Schaper, and Career Services under Libbie Patterson. In 1988 Bob Munger took leadership of the Office of Church Relations and VP for Development, Howard Taylor, gained an Associate Director of Development for Church Relations, Kent Walton. This position remained through 1993. In 1990 the Office of Christian Community was added to the Office of Church Relations and Robert Meye took leadership with Bob Munger remaining as Chaplain at Large. To the Presbyterian and Reformed Church of America offices was added the American Baptist Theological Center under the direction of Eduardo Font. In 1990 the Development Office expanded to include Admissions and gained a new Director of Communications and Public Affairs, Janice Ryder. The Development Office remained the same for the remainder of Hubbard’s Presidency, except for the appointment of a manager in 1992, Linda Regensberger.

Series 2, Subseries 11: Business Affairs

When DAH began his presidency, Richard Curley was Business Manager, assisted by Accountants Ethel F. Ennenga and Madrene Beirma. In 1972, Richard Curley gained an assistant, Lee Merritt. In 1973 Lee Merritt became Director of Business Affairs and Richard Curley became Secretary to the Board of Trustees and Assistant to the President in Financial Affairs. In 1974 no changes were made but in 1975 the Administration was divided into three categories with Don Weber still assisting President Hubbard, Richard Curley as Secretary to Board of Trustees and Assistant to the President in Financial Affairs and Lee Merritt as Director of Business Affairs. In 1978 the Administration was divided into Schools and Offices. The Business Office was headed by Lee Merritt, with nine positions under his direction including physical plant, bookstore, student housing, accounting, payroll and computer services. In 1982 Business Affairs was divided into two departments with Lee Merritt as head, along with two assistants, and a budget manager, David Adams. The Business Office was headed by Controller John Cuny who took leadership of payroll, the bookstore, housing and data processing. In 1984 Business Affairs and the Business Office were relieved of the management of many departments by the creation of a new office, Seminary Services, under the direction of Vice President of Seminary Services, David Luecke. (See the David Luecke Papers for details on these offices.) In 1985 Lee Merritt was made Chief Financial Officer. This series includes the records of Richard Curley and assistants, followed by Lee Merritt and assistants as well as documents related to Seminary Properties.
