Pastor and Mrs. Zamani would like to express their gratitude to all members of the FTS community and others who prayed, gave financial support and showed love when our son passed away.

The Bookstore will be open until 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday during the first week of Spring Quarter.

Graduating seniors who are interested in purchasing an academic hood can order one through the Bookstore. Delivery takes approximately 8-10 weeks so don't delay.

Tax hints: (a) All books purchased during seminary may be deducted once you graduate, on a three to ten year scale, i.e., you can deduct 1/3 of the total each year for three years, or 1/10 for ten years or anything in between. For this initial process, no receipts are required.
(b) All books purchased after you graduate and enter the ministry are fully deductible each year, but you must have receipts.
(c) If questions arise with the IRS concerning the initial library, it is the responsibility of the IRS to disprove the claim. The presence of the books as visual evidence of the library is sufficient to satisfy an audit by IRS.

Equipping Pastor students: Papers from CF524 The Equipping Pastor (with Dr. Kirk) can be picked up from Jollene Anderson, 465 Ford Pl. (upstairs).

Students in M531/631 Christian Ethnotheology: Please purchase at the Bookstore and bring to first class (Wed. 4/1) both the textbook and the Handbook. Your assignment schedule is a part of the Handbook and you will be lost without it. (Dr. Charles Kraft)

Students in M502 Introduction to Missiology: (coordinated by Dr. Wagner of the SWM) - you must buy the syllabus from the bookstore and bring it to the first class (8 a.m., Tues. 3/31).

MA and MDiv students who participated in Joe Verga's questionnaire study on clergy authority last summer, may receive a copy of the abstract upon request. A copy will also be posted on the psychology bulletin board near the switchboard. Sincere thanks for your participation.

The Consultation on Women in Scripture of the Society of Biblical Literature invites interested scholars to submit proposals for papers which deal with the Bible and/or aspects of women in the biblical world. The papers would be read at the National Meeting in Dec., 1981 in San Francisco. For details, see Libbie Patterson or see the women's bulletin board.

Career Class: Career planning will be offered Mondays and Thursdays, April 6-23 from 5:30-7:00 p.m. in the Geneva Room. Cost: $15 for Fuller community, $25 off-campus. Space is limited; sign up with Libbie Patterson, x. 3837.

International students: If you have moved, or if you are new, please see Laura Raab this week in order to be listed in the International Student Directory update.
A self-defense course is tentatively scheduled to begin the second week of spring quarter. This is a no-tricks, practical course in how to handle potentially dangerous situations. The course will last 6 weeks at a cost of $30. Enrollment is limited. Please contact Marc Murchison (Box 176) if you are seriously interested.

Free Individual Psychotherapy - There will be some additional openings in Dr. Neil Warren's Clinical Foundations class for free individual psychotherapy. The program offers 10 free therapy sessions during spring quarter with a student in the clinical psychology PhD program. If you are interested, contact Charlotte White (x. 3304) immediately.

YMCA memberships continue to be available throughout the quarter. See the IM board for details.

"Take me out to the ballgame!!" For a leisurely time of fun and relaxation in the Friday afternoon sun, sign up for IM softball. No experience necessary. Softball is the least competitive sport IM's offers. Sign up on the IM board in the mailroom.

There are still a few PAC spaces available. To add or drop the PAC you must notify Mark Krone (Box 562) by the second Friday of classes (4/14). Additional information on the IM board. Remember to walk or share rides when possible to reduce cars in the PAC parking lot.

Those interested in officiating IM softball contact Mark Krone, Box 562.

Start training for the Fuller 5 and 10 kilometer run, Alumni Day, May 15. Watch for details to come in the SEMI.

NEW Health Office hours for Spring Quarter: Tues. 10-12, Wednesday 10-12, Thurs. 12-2.

Have your teeth cleaned and x-rayed for $20. See Health Coordinators for details. Box 38.

ID cards for student health insurance policyholders and their spouses are available in the Health Services office. (Suzanne and Chuck Shelton, Box 38)

If you have recently had a baby and are on Fuller's maternity policy, you must send a note of verification to Occidental to receive your benefit payment. Send a copy of the verification to Box 38. Check with Health Services to put your child on your policy if it is your first baby.

Effective last Sunday (March 22) first class postage is 18¢/oz.

The mailroom is putting together a summer address forwarding book. You need to fill out the pink form you received and return it to them. Only first class mail will be forwarded to you. If you are not returning, please notify publishers of your new address. Also, leave a self-addressed, stamped envelope for the registrar's office to send your grades. Leave a self-addressed envelope with postage for each professor to return your exams, papers, etc.

Found: In the parking lot, a license plate, California #PPR886. It may be claimed at the Switchboard.
NEW ARRIVALS IN THE BOOKSTORE include:

Paul K. Jewett, The Ordination of Women (Eerdmans)—building on his argument in Man as Male and Female, Dr. Jewett affirms the right of (and need for) women to be ordained to the ministry, ably refuting arguments to the contrary on the basis of the alleged nature of women, nature of the office or masculinity of God.

Donald A. Hagner and Murray J. Harris (ed.), Pauline Studies (Eerdmans)—a fitting tribute to Professor F. F. Bruce as a teacher is this volume of essays by his former students, all of whom have made a contribution to biblical scholarship in their own right, in celebration of his 70th birthday. Our own Dr. Hagner writes on "Paul in Modern Jewish Thought."

Nigel Turner, Christian Words (T. & T. Clark)—a British scholar, well known for his work in supplementing Moulton's grammar, offers some NT word studies which are based on NT usage rather than supposed etymological derivations, whether from classical Greek or Hebrew.

Bruce E. Schein, Following the Way: The Setting of John's Gospel (Augsburg)—a Lutheran pastor and NT scholar highlights the Palestinian background of the Fourth Gospel from the perspective of 15 years living in the Holy Land.

Michael H. Crosby, Spirituality of the Beatitudes: Matthew's Challenge for First World Christians (Orbis)—the social challenge of the Sermon on the Mount for Americans.

Edward John Carnell, A Philosophy of the Christian Religion (Baker)—a reprint of the second volume of the late Dr. Carnell's trilogy on apologetics.

Jim Garrison, The Plutonium Culture: From Hiroshima to Harrisburg (Continuum)—an investigation of how nuclear history has affected human self-understanding in our world.

Patrick Bascio, Building a Just Society: A Different Viewpoint (Orbis)—a personalized view of the positive impact of Marxism by one who has served the church in the inner city and on the mission field.

Dennis P. McCann, Christian Realism and Liberation Theology: Practical Theologies in Creative Conflict (Orbis)—a contrast between the theology of Reinhold Niebuhr and liberation theology, with a call to return to the insights of Niebuhr.

Julio de Santa Ana, Towards a Church of the Poor (Orbis)—the third book in a trilogy sponsored by the WCC, which affirms that the poor are those called by Christ to be heirs of the kingdom.

Noel Leo Erskine, Decolonizing Theology: A Caribbean Perspective (Orbis)—a second-generation Black theologian and professor at Emory University analyzes his own Jamaican roots to assess the interrelations between religion and culture, faith and politics, church and society.

Tom Jackson, The Perfect Resume (Doubleday)—practical help for job-seekers.

Marjorie Karmel, Thank You, Dr. Lamaze (Harper & Row)—a guidebook for those interested in natural childbirth.
