A Look at the MA MFT Tuition Increase

Last week students who are lucky enough to spend a hot and smoggy summer in the McAlister Library got to register for summer school. Many SOT and SWM students were surprised to see tuition increases of 7%. Since Fuller is primarily tuition driven, any budgetary modifications will directly affect students (The average expenses borne by tuition at Fuller is over 60%; other seminaries: 24%). In the SOP, however, the MA MFT students were not so surprised to see an dramatic 19% hike in tuition and $475 in new lab fees.

MFT students have been involved in the debate over raising tuition fees. SOP Co-President, Pam Childres and MA MFT Rep, Brian Lee, got involved as soon as they heard about the talk to raise tuition to cover the department's mounting debt. The close-knit community of MFT students protested. First year students, caught with an unexpected 20% hike in their budgets, felt an injustice in "being stuck paying for past debt," as Pam reports. In response to their input, the Seminary is assisting these first year students by waiving the new $350 Live Supervision fee.

The whole problem began in 1987 when the MFT program moved from the SOT over to the SOP. It's a logical move since the MA MFT degree is needed for the clinical MFCC (Marriage, Family, Child Counselor) license. The clinical emphasis in the SOP provides a more cohesive fit for the mission of the MFT program since most of their students enter clinical practice.

Yet, with benefits of greater autonomy, its own accreditation, and a clinical focus came some unavoidable financial complications. When the program moved, it lost considerable income. Under the SOT umbrella, the MFT program received the majority of the tuition income from the 48 of 112 units which cover their required theology courses. Now, the MFT program only sees 20% of the tuition from their students' theology courses. As a result of the lost revenue, the program has had to survive through massive deficit spending over the past four years, bringing their deficit up to $300,000.

The students lost out too, financially. Under the SOT umbrella, MFT students were eligible for theology grants and scholarships. Now, however, grant-in-aid is limited. This year, only $40,000 (an increase from the $18,000 last year) in grant money is available for over 70 students. There is no substructure of endowment funds available to the program. Students pay for their education mostly through family support and heavy borrowing. They do not have many of the channels of support that SOT or SWM students have. They often cannot work much, if at all, with the 25 hour a week practicum required for their training. Church support is limited as many churches do not consider psychology a "ministry," since most MFT students will not be working in the church, but will go into private practice.

The MFT administrators and faculty have worked hard to come up with a proposed solution. The tuition increase is only one of the elements. The new MFT program, beginning in Fall 1991, will be an MS rather than an MA degree and will include 2 new integration courses. The requirements for MFT core courses will increase to 120 units, up from 112 and the theology course requirements will decrease from 48 down to 32. This re-assignment will add units back into the MFT program to help stabilize the budget. Students will also be required to take at least 12 units per quarter or take a leave of absence. This budget adjustment has within its design a plan to hire three new faculty over the next three years.

The solution possibilities for students are more bleak. Their only real hope is a miraculous endowment gift. Even a desire to attract more ethnic students to the program, (the MFT student population is largely Caucasian women) is difficult to actualize without endowment grant support.

The faculty is praying for that miracle. Dr. Cameron Lee, MFT Faculty, meets weekly (Tuesday mornings at 9:30 a.m. in the SAFE conference room, 2nd floor Finch Hall) with a group of MFT students to pray for a big endowment check to come in! They are also praying for a renewed emphasis for the MFT community. So preoccupied with problems and finances, it is more urgent than ever to emphasize the vision of serving Christ.

Let's all in the Fuller community at large commit to praying with and for them.

Moving On, Letting Go

Letting go familiar places,
Family and dear friend’s faces,
Forcing back the tenacious hold—
Moving on, letting go.

Sifting through the time-worn treasures
Scraps of dolls that brought such pleasure,
Aching with how fast they grow—
Moving on, letting go.

Lord, give grace, help me remember
That you left hammer, nails and lumber
To walk upon a lonely road—
You left all, let all go.

Let me, too, "let go" for others
That your daughters, sons, and mothers
Might learn love and be set free
"Let to" of sin, eternally.

Letting go familiar places,
Knowing I’ll love other faces,
Hurry, hurry—time grows old!
Moving on, letting go.

An Insurance Memo From the Insurance Guy:

Troy Evans
The Insurance Guy

Do you want health insurance this summer? We are happy to provide it to you if you are registered for at least one class OR you are a student this Spring quarter and will be a student in the Fall quarter. Amerimed coverage will be from June 24 through September 30, 1991 and Lina from June 24 through September 14, 1991. Please come to the Office of Student Services above the Catalyst as soon as possible to enroll. June 28th is the deadline but the sooner the better (at least for us to get the paperwork done).

The comparisons of the two health insurance policies for the 1991-92 school year will be available the first week of June. These will be at OSS or on the board outside the office. We worked as hard as possible to get the most for your money—that was not an easy task. We will remain with Amerimed’s same policy with a slight increase of rates. We will be changing from Lina to Student Health Insurance (S. H. I.). It is similar to Lina. The benefits are better thus the rates increased. Yet, they are less than what Lina offered. Following are the quarterly rates for the 1991-92 school year (plus an S8 administration fee):

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category</th>
<th>Amerimed</th>
<th>S. H. I.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Student only</td>
<td>$298.75</td>
<td>$126.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student/Spouse</td>
<td>$668.75</td>
<td>$392.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student/Family</td>
<td>$632.50</td>
<td>$387.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student/Child(ren)</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Student + 2 or more dependents</td>
<td>$950.25</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Another Insurance Thing

If you are planning to use your LINA coverage to pay for expenses related to having a baby, you should be especially aware that LINA treats delivery as a surgical procedure and will only pay up to $130 times the unit value given in the 1974 California Relative Studies book. This amount is usually substantially lower than the full expense of delivery. Also, note that this limitation is contrary to previous published information about the plan. If you have any questions about the LINA policy coverage or about possible alternatives for next quarter, please contact Troy in OSS at 584-5435.

A Note from the Editor

This is it, folks! This is the last Semi edition for the 1990-91 school year. (Okay, okay, quit the fake whines and sobs!) Once a month during the summer, the SEMI will be published for your entertainment and information pleasure! The deadline for advertisements or notices is June 28 for the July issue and July 26 for the August issue.

This will be a fun summer for me. I will be working on making further changes in the SEMI to make it more like a campus newspaper and less like a calendar bulletin. If you have any ideas or are interested in writing articles, cartoons, movie or book reviews, or anything! please drop me a note (Box OSS) because I will be holding a planning meeting early in the summer for those interested in seeing Fuller develop a campus newspaper. We’ll be changing the graphics, format, and style as well as providing a greater opportunity for the voices of the Fuller community to be heard!

I also want to say, thanks for your support in the midst of my own stumbling into something new for the SEMI this year. Yep, I made a few mistakes and a bad judgement or two, but you’ve all been very supportive of the new things we’ve been trying to do. It’s been a growing experience for me as I’ve been learning about the risks of vulnerability and the rewards of community.

So, thank you and may the God of all peace and grace bless you this summer with His pure love.

In Christ,

Vicki Luna, Editor
