Biography

Dr Arthur F. Glasser was born September 10, 1914. After graduating from Cornell University in Civil Engineering in 1936, he felt that God was calling him to full-time cross-cultural missionary service. This led him to Moody Bible Institute and then to Faith Theological Seminary where he earned the Bachelor of Divinity degree followed by a Master's degree in Sacred Theology from Union Theological Seminary. After graduating in 1942, Glasser joined the Navy as a chaplain in the First Marine Division, which saw fierce fighting in the South Pacific in 1943 and 1944.

After the war, Art and Alice Glasser joined the China Inland Mission (CIM), and were a part of the first group of candidates accepted by CIM after World War II. In 1946 they were sent to China. In their first missionary prayer letter, dated December 28, 1946, the Glassers wrote, "There are two basic reasons why we are on our way to China. First, as Christians, we owe to the One who died for us the obedience He demands of all His disciples, since He has placed upon us the solemn obligation to 'go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature.' And secondly, we are going to China because of the appalling need of that tragic land which has one

After the Communist takeover of China in 1949, Art taught for several years at Columbia Bible College in Columbia, South Carolina. In 1955 he was appointed assistant home director of CIM, by then called the Overseas Missionary Fellowship (OMF). He and Alice lived for several years in Singapore. In 1960 he became the home director of OMF. During those years Glasser was the editor of China's Millions, later called East Asia's Millions. In 1969 he resigned his position with OMF to study for a year at Columbia University in New York. From the 1940s until the late 1960s Glasser was also heavily involved with Erik Fife and others in the Urbana Missionary Conferences of the Foreign Missionary Fellowship of InterVarsity.

In 1970 he was invited by David Allan Hubbard to become the second dean of the School of World Mission, following Donald McGavran. He served as dean from 1971 to 1980. Drawing from his lifelong passion for Jewish evangelization, Glasser founded the Judaic Studies Program in the School of World Mission.

He served many years as Journal Editor and then President of the American Society of Missiology. He is one of the pioneers of developing the academic discipline of missiology and has had a broad and deep impact upon a generation of missiologists.

He is the author of 10 books: And some believed : a chaplain's experiences with the marines in the south Pacific (1946), reflections on his chaplaincy; Missions in crisis : rethinking missionary strategy (1961), co-written with Eric S. Fife; Kingdom and mission (1989); Contemporary theologies of mission (1983), co-written with Donald A. McGavran; Giving wings to the gospel : the remarkable story of Mission Aviation Fellowship (1995), co-written with Dietrich G. Buss; and Announcing the kingdom : the story of God's mission in the Bible (2003), co-written with Charles E. Van Engen, Dean S. Gilliland, and Shawn B. Redford ; foreword by Paul G. Hiebert. He has also been a contributor to the Perspectives on the World Christian Movement Curriculum.

Scope and Content

The Glasser papers include Art Glasser's office files during his years as a Fuller faculty member, Dean of the School of World Mission, editor of Missiology and Dean Emeritus. Series Description:

Series 1 through 4 are the alphabetized office files of Dr. Glasser while a faculty member, Dean and Dean Emeritus, as well as the specialized correspondence he carried out as an editor for Missiology, and the files of the Dean's office. This last includes the former Dean's files, Dean Glasser's files and those of the Dean's Assistants. There is some overlap between the general files and the Dean's files.

Series 5 and 6 are large topical and research files, including correspondence, maintained for research and placement for summer missions to France and missions to Jews.

Series 7 includes Dr. Glasser's work on the Boards of mission organizations, listed in the Box Inventory.

Series 8 consists of Dr. Glasser's course materials, syllabi, lecture notes, research files.

Series 9 is a small collection of periodicals and booklets.

Series 10 is Dr. Glasser's collected articles.

Series 11 is Dr. Glasser's and other SWM faculty's files on the nations. In each nation's folder there are publications, correspondence, Bible schools, mission organizations, government information, notes and student papers.
