MIDDLER YEAR IN MISSIONS. Dick Peace recently wrote from Uganda: "I saw the Anglican Archbishop yesterday and had an excellent time with him. He is completely behind us... Things are falling into place now. We have 'Brethren' support and Church of Uganda support. In fact, the situation is ideal, with William Nagenda doing the negotiating as an African but with the blessing of the Archbishop and the Church... I have the sense that my task is finished here. My presence as an American might even hinder further negotiations." Please join us in prayer as this application for government permission goes in. The government minister who will decide one way or the other is a Moslem, which makes things rather interesting! Dick is presently at Addis Ababa in Ethiopia visiting the new missionary radio station of the World Lutheran Federation.
