When The Trustees Come To Town

At the end of the fall, winter and spring quarters, the Board of Trustees meet. The two main functions of the Board are to hire the executive officer of the seminary and to steer the ship in its mission direction. When the trustees are in session, they subdivide into over ten sub-committees dealing with everything from ethnic ministries to student affairs. Most trustee committees include, in addition to the trustee members, faculty and student representatives.

This has not always been the case for the student body. It was only five years ago when the All Seminary Council (with Rick Fraser as president), concerned with the difficulty of being "ever reactive" to decisions and policies that concerned students, pushed for student representation on all the trustee and administrative committees. This has enabled students to take a more pro-active role in the decision making and direction of the seminary.

Representation, however, is a two-edged sword. On the one side, students can participate more actively in long range planning and policy making within the institution. This enables students to have input in decisions and in deciding priorities; whereas, in the past, students have had to be reactive to decisions.

On the other side, now that students are a part of the decision making process for the seminary, we can no longer assume a position which is adversarial. It may even be said that some of our advocacy voice has been lost. However, student government still maintains its own autonomy. Working in partnership with the trustees and administration is a far better way to address specific concerns and to resolve them for the benefit of the students.

Warm regards in Christ,
Rob Gallagher.

ASC ELECTIONS

Run for a Student Government position (or get your friends to run). Serve the students of Fuller by being a representative, a voice, and an agent for change. Descriptions for each elected office are available in the ASC office now. Start submitting nominations now!

CATALYST COORDINATOR

The ASC is looking for a Catalyst Coordinator - someone who cares about the Catalyst and has great vision. There are great benefits, including a food allowance. A description for this position is available in the ASC office. If interested, please contact Joyce Stickney in the ASC office, 584-5532.

SPORTS NOTES

Check the Sports Board. All the info you need to know regarding intramural teams, dates and times are there. It is not too late to sign up for intramural softball, ultimate frisbee, and/or soccer. Come by the ASC office and put your name and box # in the Sports Coordinator (Mike Rower's) box and write down which sport you want to play. Everybody, at whatever playing ability, is encouraged to play. The more people, the more fun!

PAC AND YMCA MEMBERSHIPS

Technically, it is too late to sign up for PAC memberships. However, if you missed your chance earlier, you may come by the ASC office before Thursday, March 31 and pay your check to join. YMCA memberships are available all year long. Come to the ASC office for details in rates and services of both the South Pasadena and Foothill YMCAs.

WOMEN'S CONCERNS

Come to our meeting this Wednesday, March 30, 5-9 pm, to hear our special guest speaker, Margie McKenna of Building Services. Refreshments, good conversation, and fun for all! Please join us.

THE BOARD OF DECLARATION

It provides an excellent opportunity for every student at Fuller to express their ideas and concerns. The All Seminary Council encourages all students to read the current articles on the board and write down your comments. If there is an issue you feel needs to be addressed at Fuller, why not write your own article for the Board? The ASC wants to know the concerns of students so we can begin to attend to the needs. Thanks.
Spring Forward!

Spring is here! Get out your beach chairs, picnic baskets, frisbees, hackey sacks and volleyballs! Oh and of course (in case any faculty are reading) your school books.... Yeah....... right..........

Not only are we looking forward to a gorgeous spring, but Easter - one of the most amazing days of the year - is coming this Sunday. The other day I was reading The Fire of Your Life by Maggie Ross, and I ran across this passage that seemed kind of appropriate for us at Fuller as we start a new quarter. Thought I'd share it with you:

"If there is one hard lesson that Holy Week and Easter teaches us, it is that we have to learn to love, hope, forgive, and trust beyond any rational base, not in the wildly extravagant gesture, but in the most ordinary speech and action of our lives together. At each moment we can choose death for each other or life for each other; at each moment we can risk new pain but also new life by offering our very selves for and to each other."

To be able to do this involves radical listening, and a constant attentiveness to the stilt, small voice of God who constantly speaks within us and through the people around us - if only we will hear. In the introduction of her translation of The Sayings of the Desert Fathers, Benedicta Ward describes the process by which a hermit went to his abba, or an elder, for direction:

"...his abba would ask him for a word. "Give me a word of life; give me a word of resurrection."

"How often, in response do we speak a resurrecting word? How often a word of condemnation? How often do we greet one another as the image and likeness of God, with the reverence and joy that calls forth the Word, that enables the other to be vulnerable and unafraid?"

"We are all called to be abbas and ammas for each other, and more: we are called to be Christs for each other. This is the glory and dread of our vocations as Christians: that He may become incarnated within each of us, that we may bear the resurrecting Word, the Word of Life."

Easter blessings!

Commencement 94
For all you soon-to-be grads making your June plans, Commencement is scheduled June 11, 10:00 a.m. at Lake Ave. Congregational Church.

Prospective Student Day
Do you have any friends who might be interested in taking courses in one of our programs here at Fuller? On Monday, April 18th we will host a prospective student day where they can see campus, talk with faculty and current students, and learn about Fuller in general. Please contact the admissions office if you know of anyone we should invite!

Treasures from the Student Insurance Chest
A few little known facts about your student insurance:
- You can be insured for one quarter beyond the quarter you complete your last class.
- You can be insured for the summer, yes, even if you're not taking classes.
- You can always ask me, Denise Lloreda, your student Health Insurance Coordinator, about these or any other insurance matters. Give me a call, or stop by my office on the second floor of the Catalyst between 1:00 and 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday.

Some important dates:
- March 31 - The last to buy or cancel your student insurance. Please, do not wait 'til this date to tend to your insurance. Thanks.
- April 1 - The last day of coverage for Winter quarter and first day of coverage for Spring quarter… no fooling!

Chapel News
Prayer before Chapel: 9:15 a.m. Wednesday morning in the sanctuary at the Congregational Church. Come join us as we pray for the Holy Spirit to anoint our worship, so that we can bring glory and honor to our Lord Jesus Christ.

Wednesday, Mar. 30, First Congregational Church - 10:00-10:50 A.M.
Start the quarter out right - make attending chapel something you do for yourself. On Wednesday, March 30, our Chapel preacher, Dr. Richard Mouw, will bring us a message well worth hearing. We will have coffee afterwards.

Thursday, Mar. 31, Travis Auditorium - 11:35 - 12:15 P.M.
The guest speakers for Chapel, March 31, will be a team of four from the CALEB Project. They will be sharing about their mission in the inner cities of Southern California.
