The Semi (01-23-1995)

Fuller Theological Seminary

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.fuller.edu/fts-semi-5

Recommended Citation

This Periodical is brought to you for free and open access by the Fuller Seminary Publications at Digital Commons @ Fuller. It has been accepted for inclusion in The SEMI (1991-2000) by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Fuller. For more information, please contact archives@fuller.edu.
When I was asked to write this article, I realized that this may well be the last opportunity I have to address the Fuller community before I graduate in June. With this in mind, I have decided to take the opportunity to speak on behalf of a group of students, of which I am a part, who could soon be the largest denominational grouping at Fuller...the Pentecostals and Charismatics.

Recent figures gathered for a student profile presented to the November Trustee meetings demonstrate that the denominational make up of this campus is changing. While the Presbyterians still rank in top place (251 students), non-denominational students, many of whom proclaim a Pentecostal/Charismatic leaning, come in a very close second (212 students). The two classical Pentecostal denominations, Assemblies of God and Foursquare, both rank in the top 10 represented in each school (a total of 136 students). These figures combined evidence a significant number of students.

As much as the rhetoric would suggest that this is a "Presbyterian" seminary, these numbers reflect a growing trend. Fuller is undergoing an identity crisis denominationally. We bow to Knox, but glossolalia pays a lot of tuition! How should this institution respond to the many members of the body of Christ who are not Presbyterian? Speaking from the perspective of a marginalized Pentecostal, all I want is a little "R-E-S-P-E-C-T," as Aretha (not Anthea) would say!

What brings this on, you ask? Well, I am getting tired of the tongues jokes on the Board of Declaration, and the little disparaging comments made from the front of classrooms and other places of power. You know, the ones about leg lengthening, and, "Gee, you don't jump the pews too often!" Not all Pentecostals are uneducated and ignorant! That's why we are in seminary. Why are we positioning ourselves as a "multi-denominational seminary" while, at the same time, allowing a large segment of our community to be ridiculed for its beliefs?

David Barrett, respected researcher of the world-wide Christian movement, estimates that across the world the Pentecostal/Charismatic movement numbers approximately 450 million followers. The only Christian movement bigger is the Roman Catholic Church, and we don't respect our fellow Catholics around here too well either! Some of those 450 million Pentecostals might like to obtain theological training. Will Fuller be a place where a Pentecostal can feel comfortable and secure without having to justify his or her beliefs? In order for Fuller to remain a "cutting edge" seminary, we must break out of our denominational world view shell. In this age of post modernity in which we live and minister, we are part of a hungry world wanting more of the "Spirit" and not the flesh. When the number one infomercial for 1994 is Dionne Warwick's "Psychic Friends Hotline," a profound statement is being made. People are seeking spiritual power and guidance. A powerless, socially ignorant church is not going to cut it.

Fuller has been, in the past, an interesting place to explore God in more tangible ways. Some may want to forget that John Wimber actually taught on this campus, but, for better or worse, he made an impact. Charles Kraft's course, "Power Encounter," continues to draw large numbers of students. This past November, Harvard Divinity School professor Dr. Harvey Cox was invited to address Dr. Colin Brown's class regarding his new book on Pentecostals, Fire from Heaven. Dr. Robeck and Dr. Volf have both been a significant part of the Roman Catholic/Pentecostal dialogue.

With all this activity, can we honestly continue to ignore, or treat lightly, the fastest growing Christian movement on earth? If we are to be true to the motto, "Educating for the Kingdom," there is a responsibility we all must carry to be fair and sensitive to all the members of the Kingdom. No more leg lengthening jokes, no more back handed comments about "tongue talkers," and so on. You get the idea? The Pentecostals/
By Akumla Longkumer

Anyone working on a PhD program will agree that writing a dissertation is a long and painful ritual. But rewarding too! For me, the ritual has included a field research component among an ancient tribe in northeast India. After sweating through the preliminary requirements of my program, and having been equipped with the very best in research and cultural theory, I was finally ready for my trip of discovery.

I had mixed feelings as I prepared myself for this experience—feelings of fear and excitement. Fear at the thought of encountering a new people in a new place, and excitement at the thought of immersing myself in a new culture. I had no certainty as I left that I would be allowed access into this tribe and I could make no pre-arrangements. I had only one certainty—that God would go before me.

Spread out at the foot of the Himalayas in northeast India lies Assam. It is sometimes called a "mystic land" because of its rich, natural beauty, art and ancient culture. It was here I spent six months among the Bodo tribe. The Bodos are the earliest known inhabitants of the Assam Valley whose settlement may be traced back as far as 2000 BC. Assam’s history speaks about the Bodo people as a great race and the rulers of the land since time immemorial.

I spent the major part of my research time in an area called Karbi Anglong—home to around 10,000 Bodo people. To my great joy and relief, I met three of my former students working in the area who helped me to make initial contacts with the people. As I entered villages, I was often greeted with suspicious stares, but when I explained, in my broken Bodo, that I had come to learn about the Bodo culture, the inquiring and distant stares became warm and infectious smiles. I was immediately invited into their homes where we would sit and eat together and endeavor to communicate.

One of the first words I learned was hambai, or “thank you” in English. But at first the only response I got was laughter. I soon learned that this one word in Bodo had five different meanings depending on the tone. I had been saying to everyone, "You look thin!" Our shared laughter over my mistakes was often the starting point for times of rich learning.

As I went from village to village, staying with Bodo families, two things stood out. One was the immense joy there is in learning a new culture through relationships with people. The other was the excitement I felt in relating cultural theories to real life situations. I felt loved and accepted whenever I would hear an older Bodo address me as binani (younger sister) and a youngster call me abo (older sister). Cultural theory came alive as I spent my days among the Bodo participating in their day to day activities, observing, talking, asking, listening and learning.

My most exciting discovery (that aha experience in cultural research that my mentor, Dr. Shaw, had described so many times) is their concept of the creator God called Bathou. To my surprise and delight, I discovered that their Bathou has some similarity with the God of the Old Testament, Yahweh. Their whole cultural system, as I discovered, is, in one way or another, related to this central theme, the Bathou.

I was greatly impressed by their strong family ties. Respect and obedience, sharing and helping, visiting, eating together, sitting out on the porch with family members and neighbors, recounting the day’s events—these are regular features of Bodo family life. I was fortunate to become a part of such loving family circles which were also my primary school of learning about this culture.

My research period came to an end. It was time to say good-bye to my Bodo friends who had accepted me, taken care of me and extended all possible help in my research work. I felt enriched and enlightened, and most of all, I felt overwhelmed with a feeling of belonging to this community. It was hard to believe that we had been strangers only six months earlier. We were now a family, and with heavy hearts we said our good-byes.

As I traveled back across the ocean, faces of my Bodo friends flashed before my misty eyes, faces I know will always have a special place in my heart.

Akumla is a PhD student in the SWM Intercultural Studies program. She came to Fuller from northern India.
The Passing of a Friend

By Dr. Bill Dyrness, Dean SOT

In the early morning of January 11, in the city of London, our dear friend, teacher and colleague Ian Pitt-Watson passed away. Ian was surrounded by his family and the prayers of his many friends around the world.

Ian Pitt-Watson was a member of the School of Theology faculty from 1980 to 1994. In 1984 he was installed in the Harold John Ockenga Chair of Preaching and Practical Theology. Prior to coming to Fuller, he was professor and head of the Department of Practical Theology at the University of Aberdeen in Scotland. During his tenure at Fuller Seminary, the Preaching Department reached new heights. With his advocacy of preaching gifts among women, his mentoring of Doctor of Ministry students, and his supervision of the Parish Pulpit Fellowship awards, he made an invaluable contribution to Fuller Seminary. Scores of Fuller alumni/ae recall his classes and mention his name with great admiration and appreciation.

Ian is survived by his sister, two daughters, one son and their families. We join with Ian's friends from around the world in praying for them and share deeply their sense of loss.

Dr. Robert Schaper, Senior Professor of Preaching and Practical Theology attended the funeral service, January 19, in Scotland.

A campus memorial service is scheduled for Friday, January 27, 10:00 am to 11:00 am in the sanctuary of the Pasadena Presbyterian Church, 54 N. Oakland, where Ian was a member. Please contact Jollene Anderson in the SOT Dean's office for more information about this service.

MEETINGS

The following denominations will be meeting on Monday mornings at 10:00 am. This time is set aside for you for worship, for support, to network, and to connect with denominational issues.

- American Baptist
  Psych Bldg. 116
- African Prayer Group
  Library 204
- Assemblies of God
  Psych Bldg. 311
- Chinese Prayer Group
  Glasser Hall-1st floor seminar rm
- Foursquare
  Payton Hall 302
- Japanese Prayer Group
  Payton 303
- Korean Fellowship
  Payton Hall 303
- Messiahic Jews
  Glasser Hall - China Library
- Non-Denominational
  Psych. Bldg 314
- Post-Denominational
  Preaching Arts Chapel
- Presbyterian Church (USA)
  Travis Auditorium
- Reformed Church in Am./CRC
  Psych Bldg. 120
- Seventh Day Adventist
  Backroom (left side) of the Catalyst
- United Methodist Church
  Psych Bldg. 130
- Vineyard
  Payton 301

Coordinated by the Office of Denominational Relations-located on the 2nd floor of Cornell Hall.

Chapel news

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 25

Our guest speaker is Dr. Mel Robeck, Associate Professor of Church History and Ecumenics. Dr. Robeck is a gifted teacher and preacher presenting a message which will be certain to challenge us. The Wednesday All-Seminary Chapel meets at the First Congregational Church at the corner of Los Robles and Walnut at 10:00 am.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 26

Paul Young-Kee Lee, a PhD ICS student, and Joy Chase, SWMGU Vice-President, will each share from their personal faith journeys. There will be a time of singing and prayer. The Thursday All-Seminary Chapel meets in Travis Auditorium at 10:00 am.

Celebrate Some More Isle-Walking

There's been some more isle-walking of late. Here's the scoop! Marian Forster (MDiv), who works in our Registrar's Office, was married to Gene Klaschke on November 25. Joyce Stickney (MDiv), the 1993/94 ASC Vice President, tied the knot with Calvin Prakasim on December 31, and on the same day Joy Fehr (MA SWM), SWMGU Vice President, was married to John Chase. Our warmest congratulations to the whole bunch!
All - Seminary Council

Weep with Those Who Weep

I was no more than seven years of age. My first grade teacher was showing the class a picture that was hanging in the corridor of the elementary school. In the foreground of the rural landscape a little dog scratched against a tree, while in the background a young boy was drowning in a river. That happened nearly forty years ago, but the lesson is still fresh today. The feeling I took with me that day concerns the sufferings of life. The painting speaks to me of human suffering and that life seemingly goes on in complete indifference. So many times that appears to be the reality, but it doesn’t always have to be that way.

As I have spoken with different students, staff and faculty this quarter, I have been made aware of the pain in people’s lives. You look at some of these people and there is no way you would know of the suffering that they have gone through, or are going through. There are people in the Fuller family that are grieving from the loss of one they love dearly; others are recovering from illness or surgery; some bear the emotional scars of traumatic events such as being physically and/or emotionally abused; two students nearly lost their wives in child birth this winter. In amongst all the joys of being at Fuller Seminary, there is also a lot of pain.

The empathy of Christ with human suffering is beautifully portrayed in chapter eleven of the Gospel of John. Knowing days before the death of Lazarus that God would raise his friend from the dead, Jesus stood at the grave and shared in the grief of the family. And “Jesus wept.” We have a Savior who is “touched with the feelings of our infirmities.”

What can we do? We can ask God who has filled us with the Spirit of Christ to make us even more sensitive to those around us. As we swish through our day at Fuller, we can pause to listen to the hearts of people. We may find some pain. Then in our listening, we can cry and pray for God’s mercy and grace. They may never remember our words, but they will remember our tears.

Let us remember in our prayers the family and friends of our much loved professor, Ian Pitt-Watson and weep with them.

Warm regards in Christ,
Rob Gallagher

Get Connected

YOU ARE INVITED

You are invited to attend ASC council meetings. Here’s a way for you to get the inside scoop on the issues and events pertaining to the All Seminary Council. Just let Nancy know of your attendance in advance at 584-5452. All are welcome!

SPECIAL THANKS

Our thanks to Joy Chase and Andrew Drummond for their great job on the SWM Banquet. Also, thank you Ana Gan for welcoming in the new quarter with an (indoor!) barbecue January 6. Mike Rewers, thanks for your work in coordinating Fuller’s Rose Parade parking lots!

OFFICIAL ROSE PARADE PARKING UPDATE

Did you know that a band of hard working (and sleepy) Fullerites parked 342 cars and one bus early New Year’s morning? Some of the money raised goes to the SAVOR food program which distributes food to low income residents of the Fuller Community and beyond.

THEOLOGY GRADUATE UNION LUNCHEON

Come have lunch with the TGU! Dr. David Scholer, a new faculty member in the SOT, will join us to share his words of wisdom and fellowship. Held in Faculty Commons, Wednesday, Jan. 25 at 1:00 pm. Lunch will be provided on a first come, first serve basis. See you there!

TEACH ENGLISH IN BANGKOK, THAILAND

Have you ever wanted to just get away and disappear to a foreign country for a year? Well, here’s your chance. A Thai/Chinese Church in Bangkok, Thailand is desperately seeking native American English speakers to teach English at their K-9 school for one (or two) nine month terms. This mission adventure is fully paid for by the Sapan Luang Church which includes airfares, monthly salary, room and board, visa and Medical Insurance expenses. Three teaching positions are open, so bring along two friends! The dates: early June ’95 to March ’96. If you feel God may be calling you to this ministry contact Nancy Moomaw in the ASC office immediately.

MEET MCCrackEN OF THE INFOXCHANGE

Are you “roadkill” on the information super highway? Do you think a modem is an ancient Babylonian god? If so, you need to attend an informative TGU brown bag lunch on Wednesday Feb. 1 with the wizard of Fuller’s very own computer bulletin board, Steve McCracken. Steve, most known for his work with the InfoXchange, will have a demo system set up and will give a presentation on how the bulletin board can enhance your seminary experience. The discussion will start at noon, but if you have a class, come when you can. We’ll be finished by 2:00pm. It’s in the Faculty Commons. Lunch will be provided on a first come, first served basis!

SPORTS NOTES

Fuller intramurals are proving to be great ways to get away from studies and enter into new friendships. Sports coordinator, Jay Shetler, would like to give a special invitation to all women interested in playing intramural basketball on Fridays from 2-3 pm. If interested, call Jay at X5452.
IS THIS GOING TO BE...

Is this going to be a period of purification, Lord? Is this going to be the time when you give me insight into the chains that bind me and the courage to throw them off? Is this going to be my chance to see my prison and escape it?

John Eudes said: "This is a time of purification. A time to identify your ambiguous relationships and your ambivalent attitudes, and to make some decisions and choose some directions."

And you, Lord, said, "Pray even when you do not feel attracted to it." Yes, Lord, I will try to pray, even when I am afraid to face you and myself, even when I keep falling asleep or feel as though I am going around in circles, even when it seems that nothing is happening. Yes, Lord, I will pray - not only with others, not only supported by the rhythms of the choir, but also alone with you. I will try not to be afraid. Lord, give me courage and strength. Let me see myself in the light of your mercy and choose you. Amen.

---

The Office of Christian Community is available as a resource for you in protecting and nurturing your personal relationship with God and others. In addition to these winter activities, please feel free to stop by our office to talk or pray. We are located on the second floor of the Catalyst building or you can reach us at 818-584-5322, or drop us a note at FTS Box 243.

EVENSONG

Join us for this new rhythm of grace in the Fuller community. We will celebrate afternoon liturgical prayer using the Book of Common Prayer every Tuesday from 5:00 - 5:30 p.m. in the Chapel (second floor Library Building).

---

RETREAT CENTER INFORMATION

There is an updated listing of area retreat centers available in the brochure holders outside our door on the second floor of the Catalyst building.

SPIRITUAL FORMATION LUNCH WITH DR. MOUW

Join the OCC on Thursday, January 26 from 11:30 - 1:00 in Payton 101. Over lunch together, Fuller President Dr. Richard Mouw will share his personal testimony. Cost is $4.00 for lunch. Reservations requested at 584-5322.

THE COUPLE’S GARDEN

This popular and unique opportunity on Fuller campus is an encouragement for married couples through these guided date nights. Special Fuller rates are $6/session. The next Winter date nights is Saturday February 25 at 6 pm in Payton 101. Reservations requested. Contact Chuck or Dee at 584-5322.

FULLER OUTDOOR CLUB

Join us for a Day Hike, Saturday, February 11. We’ll meet at 10:00 am in the Psych parking lot. For more information call Craig Goodwin, 797-6762, or Doug Satre, 797-0811.

VALENTINE’S BANQUET

Plan now for a romantic Valentine’s banquet for couples on Fuller campus. Internationally known speakers Dr. David Stoop and Jan Stoop, authors of The Intimacy Factor and Fuller grads, will bring a message on intimacy after our catered banquet. Mark your calendar for Tuesday, February 14, 6:30 - 9:00. Watch for further details!

OFFERINGS

Make your contributions of short stories, photographs, sketches and poems (surrounding the theme of our community in Christ) now to the ASC for this Winter publication. Due January 26.

---

Managing Editor: Richard Shaw
Director OSS: Ruth Vuong

The SEMI is published as a service to the Fuller community by the Office of Student Services, Fuller Theological Seminary, Pasadena, California 91108. For more information, contact the SEMI office at (818) 584-5430.

Notices may be submitted to the Editor (Kresker Hall, 2nd Floor) by noon (12 pm) on Tuesday, a week and a half prior to the date of publication. No late notices can be accepted. In-
Distinguished African-American for 1995 Payton Lecture

The School of Theology is set to welcome to the campus the respected author, pastor, preacher and educator, Dr. Jeremiah A. Wright, Jr. Dr. Wright has accepted the invitation to give the 1995 Payton Lecture scheduled for Thursday, February 2. His subject will be "Africentricity and the Christian Faith."

Dr. Wright is pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ in Chicago which has grown under his leadership from 87 to 4,400 members. He holds a DMin degree in Black sacred music from United Theological Seminary and an MA in the history of religions from the University of Chicago Divinity School. He has also received honorary Doctor of Divinity degrees from Chicago Theological Seminary, Elmhurst College, and from Monrovia, Liberia. Wright serves as an adjunct professor with the Seminary Consortium for Urban Pastoral Education and he is a member of the Board of Directors of the Black Theology Project.

Among his many awards are the Samuel D. Proctor Fellowship, the Rockefeller Fellowship, the Partners in Mission Award, and three Presidential commendations from Lyndon B. Johnson. Wright was also named by Ebony magazine as the number 2 preacher among the 15 greatest black preachers in America.

The SOT Payton Lectureship was instituted in 1948 in memory of Dr. and Mrs. John E. Payton, parents of the late Mrs. Charles E. Fuller, whose husband founded the Seminary. This event will replace the regular Thursday chapel program on February 2, and will be held in Travis Auditorium. The School of Theology invites the entire Fuller community, and other interested friends, to attend.

In addition to the Payton Lecture, Dr. Wright will participate in the conference sponsored by the African-American Ministries Program, "Singing Our Song in a Strange Land: Empowering the African American Church to Rebuild a Nation," scheduled for February 2-4 at Fuller Seminary.

For additional information regarding the Payton Lecture, call the SOT Dean's Office at 818-584-5300. For further information about the African-American Ministries conference, call the African-American Ministries Office at 818-584-5591.

FINANCIAL AID

95-96 FINANCIAL AID TUTORIALS

The way you apply for financial aid has changed significantly. As a result, we are introducing the FINANCIAL AID TUTORIALS. It is critical, essential and down-right important that you attend one of these most incredible tutorials. Four will be offered. February 15th is the date of the first one. Place: Payton 101 Time: 5:00-6:45pm Bring a pencil, your 1994 W2s, a calculator, and any questions you might have. See you there!

COLLEGE WOMEN'S CLUB OF PASADENA

The College Women's Club of Pasadena is offering a scholarship to women in the Clinical Psychology program. Awards begin at $1,500 for the academic year. Pick up an application from the Office of Financial Aid. Completed materials must be submitted to the Office of Financial Aid by 5:00pm February 3, 1995.

JONATHAN M. DANIELS MEMORIAL FELLOWSHIP AWARDS

Grants have been made available by the Episcopal Divinity School to provide financial assistance to seminarians seeking to strengthen their theological education through participation in social movements concerned with important human needs. The fellowships are intended to set students free from their academic life and commitments to be engaged directly in some area of social concern, such as civil rights, fair housing, community organization, or environmental issues. Proposal guidelines are available at the Financial Aid Office. Proposals must be postmarked no later than February 15, 1995.

KOREAN AMERICAN SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

The Korean American Scholarship Foundation is offering scholarships to full-time graduate students of Korean heritage. Applications are available upon written request from KASF Western Region Office, 400 Bridge View Drive, Anaheim, CA 92808. The application deadline is January 31, 1995, so request your application now.

SOROPTIMIST INTERNATIONAL OF LOS ANGELES

Soroptimist International of Los Angeles is offering its annual fellowship to an outstanding woman graduate student. This student must be a US citizen and resident of California. The field of study is open, but consideration will be given to the student's potential contribution to society. Applications are available from the Financial Aid Office and are to be returned to Soroptimist International by February 1, 1995.
ONE DAY CONSULTATION
The Lowell W. Berry Institute for Continuing Education and the Graduate School of Psychology present a one-day consultation, Neuropsychological Assessment of Callosal Function: Reading Disorders, Learning Disabilities, Cognition featuring Dr. Malcolm A. Jeeves and Dr. Warren S. Brown. This consultation is scheduled for Friday, Jan. 27 from 8 am-5 pm in Travis Auditorium. The student fee is $25. For more information call 818-584-5338.

ASKAS RESEARCH
Pam Court wishes to thank all of the students who facilitated her study on the ASKAS questionnaire. Results of the study, correct answers to the ASKAS, and relevant helpful reading, plus discussion on conclusions of the study are on reserve in the Library under Court.

ON CAMPUS INTERVIEWS
Dr. Richard Leon of First Presbyterian Church Bellevue, WA, will be on campus to interview for the position of an Associate Pastor for Youth and Family Ministries on Friday, Feb. 3, 10:00-4:00 pm. A sign up sheet is placed in the lobby of Cannell Hall.

SUMMER JOB
J.D. Larson of Mission Springs Christian Conference Center and Camps will have a display and will interview for summer jobs on Tuesday, Jan. 31, 10:00-4:00 pm in the Garth. Applications are available in the job room.

FREE COMMUNITY EVENT
Fuller Psychological and Family Services (FPFS) is sponsoring an ongoing series of FREE community events called “Tuesday’s at 7”. These events will feature therapists who will speak on various topics. Our next event will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 7 at 7:00 pm and is on the topic of “Intimacy in Relationships.” Our speaker will be clinician Lisa Darin who is a Clinical Psychology graduate student. The seminar will be held on the 2nd floor of the Psychology Building in the FPFS Conference Room. Plan to attend and feel free to invite your friends! Call 818-584-5555 by Monday Feb. 6 in order to reserve your space.

DISCOUNTED DISNEYLAND TICKETS
Support a local pre-school which serves Fuller families and have fun while you’re at it. Purchase Disneyland tickets for $21 each at Epworth Pre-school. Offer open until February 28. Call 584-5435.

PC (USA)
On January 30, Karen Berns, Associate Pastor of La Canada Presbyterian Church will be with us. Karen has many years of experience as an Associate Pastor. Come join us to hear her insights.

SURVIVING IN THE TRENCHES
The local church is an arena which is rich with God’s new life. Yet many clergy experience great fatigue, depression, and burnout. This Ministry Enrichment Seminar offers practical steps to help pastors survive in the church and to receive the blessings and fulfillment of their calling. Rev. Bill Ellington will present this seminar on Tuesday, Jan. 31 from 10:00-11:00 am in Payton 101. For more info, contact the Office of Field Education at 818-584-5377.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT
Mount Hermon will be recruiting on campus on Thursday, Feb. 2 from 9:00 am - noon. For application and/or to set up an interview, please contact Eva Joshi in the Office of Career Services at 818-584-5578.

CRAZY-MAKING WORKPLACE
Our own Dr. Archibald Hart, Dean of the School of Psychology, will be giving a workshop entitled The Crazy-Making Workplace on Tuesday, January 31, from 1:00-3:00 pm in Payton 101. While this session is designed primarily for Fuller employees, all of the Fuller community is welcome. Please call the Office of Human Resources at 818-584-5238 to register.

PSYCHOTHERAPY GROUP
Announcing a psychotherapy group for psychotherapists and trainees. Discounts available to Fuller students. For details on time, fees and location contact Sam Alibrando (PhD), at 818-577-8303.

---

Can you spot the difference?

We offer our profuse, sincere and humble apologies to both Dr. Elizabeth Patterson and Dr. Mitties McDonald DeChamplain. In last week’s issue we allowed Dr. DeChamplain’s photograph to be placed with Dr. Patterson’s article, giving the impression that we couldn’t tell them apart. The error was actually a little more complicated than that, but we won’t bore you with the details. We’ll just say, “Sorry!”

---

C’mon, Give Us A BREAK
Charismatics of today want more than just an “experience” of the supernatural power of God. We want the best that scholarship has to offer, the fullness of all God has for us, and respect and acceptance from the wider Christian community. That’s why we are here.

What does this mean for Fuller Seminary? Put simply, it means an attitude change. We cannot expect to truly become the “Body of Christ” without learning to get along together—Pentecostals, Presbyterians, Catholics and others. We can begin that process right here at Fuller, discussing our differences in a rational and respectful manner. It is just as obnoxious to judge a person according to his or her denominational affiliation as it is to judge according to color. If we can allow Christ to help us learn more tolerance, care and respect for one another, we can then begin a thoughtful dialogue together, with a preparedness to do what He calls us to do, no matter what our denominational ties are.

As well as being TGU President for 94/95, Anthea is in her final year of the MDiv program and is an active member of the Church on the Way.

---

The SEMI * January 23, 1995 * 7

Auto Repair: SMOG CHECKS, tune-ups, oil change, brakes, batteries, etc. Complete service. Hrant Auto Service, 1477 E. Washington Blvd., Pasadena. 798-4064. Call for an appointment.

Rose City Cleaners: 115 N. Lake Ave, 818-577-1438. 20% Discount (Dry Cleaning) to all Fuller Seminary students and staff.

Getting Engaged? Or just want a reliable jeweler? Many Fuller students have come to us and it has been a privilege to help them. We do not sell to the general public. Walter Zimmer Co., wholesale manufacturing jewelers with 77 years’ experience. Call 213-622-4510. Ask for Mel or Ken Zimmer. (Mel is a member of Glendale Presbyterian Church and is active in the healing ministry.) Appointments needed for Saturdays. Closed on Mondays.

World Vista Travel
150 S. Los Robles Avenue
Pasadena, CA 91101

Professional Travel Arrangements
(818) 577-1220

Corporate, Leisure, Cruise, Groups and Tours

Special Discounts for Fuller Students and Faculty, Guaranteed Lowest Fares

Established in 1969

New Era Cleaners
408 E. Orange Grove Blvd. (Corner Los Robles & Orange Grove) 818-796-1707

99c SHIRTS with any Dry Cleaning Order

E. Washington Blvd. ♦ 1387

We buy and sell NEW, USED and OUT-OF-PRINT Biblical Studies, Theology, Philosophy and Missions.

The Archives Bookshop
1387 E. Washington Blvd., Pasadena

818-797-4756

20% - 70% DISCOUNT

Store Hours:
10 am - 6 pm Monday - Saturday

210 Freeway

Study in Israel

Biblical History
Historical Geography
Middle Eastern Studies
Hebrew Language
• M.A. degree programs
• graduate & undergraduate semester abroad
• two & three week programs
• credits transferable

Institute of Holy Land Studies
4249 E. State St., Suite 203
Rockford, IL 61108
Tel: (815) 229-5900 or 1-800-891-9408
Fax: (815) 229-5901

Jerusalem Campus