Blasts from the Past!
Unusual tidbits from various documents found in old housing and Student Services files.

• One of 12 Community Life Team Goals in the 1988-89 school year was to “provide L.L. Bean catalogues for all students.”

• In 1989, parking was such a problem that one Fuller Housing resident found his windshield broken (presumably by another resident) and later found an obscene note left on his car.

• A community coordinator on N. Oakland complained that “residents...have to be controlled. The younger children are quite quarrelsome, and we have found that keeping them off the grounds is the best policy.”

• Various financial scams were occurring in the area. In one, a Fuller Housing tenant was told that the community coordinator had been arrested, and the tenant was asked to post bail!

• One resident had intervened to stop two children from hitting another child. The mother of the aggressive children, resenting the interference, hit the concerned resident and knocked her to the ground!

It Cost WHAT?!

Jubilee

by Michael Card

The Lord provided for a time for the slaves to be set free
For the debts to all be canceled, so his chosen ones could see
His deep desire was for forgiveness, he longed to see their liberty and his yearning was embodied in the year of Jubilee

Jubilee, Jubilee, Jesus is the Jubilee
Debts forgiven, slaves set free
Jesus is our Jubilee!

To be so completely guilty, and given over to despair
To look into your judge's face and see a Savior there!

Jubilee, Jubilee, Jesus is the Jubilee
Debts forgiven, slaves set free
Jesus is our Jubilee!

At the Lord's appointed time, his deep desire became a man
The heart of all true jubilation and with joy we understand
In his voice we hear a trumpet sound that tells us we are free;
He is the Incarnation of the year of Jubilee!

Jubilee, Jubilee, Jesus is the Jubilee
Debts forgiven, slaves set free
Jesus is our Jubilee!

JUBILEE CELEBRATION SEMINARS!

We've all seen the large brochure listing all the events scheduled for Jubilee week, October 14-18. It can be confusing, though, to be presented with so many choices. For those of you who have not yet sent in your registration forms (they were due several weeks ago), we have done a little research into the Celebration Seminars to be offered on Friday, October 17 and Saturday, October 18. We asked all seminar leaders to give us a few sentences about the content of and audience for their seminars. Below are those who responded before press time; if there are any more responses submitted, we will run them in next week's issue.

Dr. Judy and Jack Balswick will be facilitating a Saturday seminar on families in pain. "We want to look," shares Judy Balswick, "at various points where pain enters our families—the natural stress points of daily life (like marriage, raising children, caring for elderly parents) as well as more tragic situations. When one member of the family suffers, all members are affected by that pain." The Balswicks' hope for the seminar "is that people will have a sense of hope or healing" in which both the family and the larger community can play a role.

Dr. Yea Sun Eum Kim and David Augsburger will offer a Friday seminar on cross-cultural counseling. The seminar will explore, says Dr. Augsburger, "issues of bridging across cultural barriers, and developing culturally-capable skills in one's pastoral ministry and counseling." The seminar is appropriate to anyone interested in ministry, particularly those who will be ministering in contexts where multiple cultures are present. According to Dr. Kim, topics briefly covered will include: cultural perspectives in counseling; cross-cultural counseling in the States; Asian populations in the States; Asian values; difficulties of cross-cultural counselors; guidelines for counseling Asian clients; training cross-cultural counselors; and the church's role.

Pastor Rik Stevenson will lead a Saturday seminar on the inception of the black church in America. He will give a brief overview of "how African Americans began to encounter Christianity, and how they appropriated that from slavery to the present." He will also address "how Christianity as a religion affected them sociologically, and how their society also played a significant role in their desire to be more focused on who God is—there are several stages of transition I want to talk about." The seminar is appropriate for anybody interested in church history, especially those interested in African-American church history.

The Rev. Dr. Barbara Eurich-Rascoe will lead a Saturday seminar tracing "the development of spirituality from youth to adulthood using a model of movement from willlessness to willfulness to willingness." Dr. Eurich-Rascoe explains, "It seems to me that Protestant models for spiritual practice are based on a kind of willful, intentional action on ourselves, our environment, and our experience. What I propose is that there’s a form of spiritual practice centered on a willing receptivity that is active, not passive, more ruminative than some practices. I think it has ramifications on character development, ministry, and call as well as the person's own inner experience."

Dr. Arch Hart will lead a Friday seminar on burnout in the ministry and other helping professions. Says Dr. Hart, "All 'people helpers' are at risk for burnout. Burnout is different from stress, but often the two are confused. This seminar will explore the factors that cause burnout and outline strategies for preventing and recovering from it."

Dr. James Bradley will facilitate a Friday panel presentation on evangelicalism with Dr. Daniel Draney and Dr. Geoffrey Bromiley. He explains, "I plan to represent George Marsden’s understanding of the early history of Fuller Seminary as reforming fundamentalism, then Dr. Daniel Draney will present the view of Donald Dayton that early Fuller history is better represented by its connections with a broader evangelicalism that draws from 19th-century sources. Then Dr. Geoffrey Bromiley will offer comments concerning these two positions from his perspective as an early participant in the history of Fuller Seminary. We plan to enhance this presentation with slides of the early founding Fuller faculty."

Dr. Bobby Clinton will lead a seminar on mentoring, giving an introductory overview of what mentoring is and how it can be used by a pastor or parachurch leader to develop emerging leaders. At the conclusion of this seminar the attendees will have an overview of what mentoring is, basic definitions of the various kinds of mentoring, and some basic helps for administering mentoring relationships. Attendees will also have some resources for follow-up work.

Dr. Robert Banks will be involved in two seminars. On Friday, a discussion on the spirituality of everyday life provides an opportunity to look at life and the world through new eyes opened to God's presence in all things. Dr. Lewis Smedes will present the topic, with Dr. Banks introducing some reflective exercises to help seminar participants expand their points of view. On Saturday Dr. Banks will lead a seminar on "God at Work." Leading an integrated Christian life, in all its aspects, can challenge even the most devout. This program will offer participants tools to strengthen their integrity in their workplaces. Dr. Banks will present practical concepts for incorporating integrity in and through one's place of work, followed by a case study.
The Southern California C.S. Lewis Society has many reasons for celebrating with Fuller Seminary during its Jubilee.

Firstly, Fuller was important academically and spiritually for Paul Ford, the Society’s founder. He received his doctorate from Fuller in 1987, and taught “Theology of C.S. Lewis” on campus from 1983 to 1986.

Dr. Ford devotes a paragraph of his acknowledgments in “Companion to Narnia” (Harper & Row, 1980) to his relationships with students and peers, saying they “nourish me deeply.”

The circle of friends who formed the Society originally met at St. Andrew’s Abbey (Valyermo, California) during July 1974, and our summer Institute still meets there yearly.

Secondly, after several monthly meetings in various locations around Southern California, the group was offered the opportunity to meet on the Fuller campus, and was glad to do so. For 22 years, beginning in February 1975, the Society has met on the third Wednesday of the month (most recently in the Faculty Commons) to read, listen, argue and schmooze—but most of all to forge relationships with others who want to read, ponder, and discuss the best of Christian writing. For us, the work of Jack Lewis, and his friends the Inklings, represents that “best.”

We invite the Fuller community to a special Jubilee celebration on October 15 at 7:30 p.m. in Travis Auditorium for a meeting featuring Dr. Paul F. Ford, speaking on “The Spiritual Journey of C.S. Lewis: The Regress and Progress of a Fellow Pilgrim.” His message is a biographical/spiritual reflection on the turning points of Lewis’s life and what he learned about God, himself, and what really matters. Drs. David Clark, Terry Mathis, Jack Rogers and Hendrika Vande Kemp (all associated with Fuller Seminary) will also participate.

Our invitation extends from then to every third Wednesday thereafter.

Congratulations, Fuller Seminary, on your celebration of 50 years of scholarship informed by faith.

Baby News!

Congratulations to Cheryl and Rusty Teeter! They are the proud parents of Stephen Teeter, born on October 1, 1997 at 9:16 in the evening. Stephen was 8 pounds, 4 ounces and 20-something inches. (We heard this from a third party.)

Two Men and a Baby

(two there were three, but the other man got away before we got there.)

Samuel Pak, SOT Th.M. student, with his five-week-old son Yeajoon Nathaniel Pak and friend KwangHee Kang, M.Div. student.

Friday, 10/10 @ 6 p.m. in Payton 101
“Come and celebrate the intersecting of our worlds!” Great international feast (free)!
Meet people from all over the world! Singing, dancing, celebrating our Lord, and a lot more! All students, staff, and faculty are invited!

“What Does it Mean to be a Man or Woman of God?”
Tuesday, 10/14 @noon—12:50 p.m.
Everyone is invited to a panel presentation and discussion on Promise Keepers and Chosen Women on Tuesday, October 14. The program goes from noon to 12:50 p.m. (refreshments at 11:30). Watch the bulletin boards or call (626)584-5215 (ASC Women’s Concerns) for location.

Mark your calendars!
Friday, 10/31 @ 5:30—8:30 p.m.
The annual Harvest Festival will be Friday, October 31st from 5:30-8:30 p.m. on campus. Fun for all ages will include a hay ride, petting zoo, astro jump, and lots of great food and games. An All Seminary Council square dance will follow.

Singles 40+
Are you over 40 and single? There’s a campus fellowship group for you. Fun, talking, sharing—and no commitment. Men and women both. Sponsored by Women’s (and men’s) Concerns. Call Linda for info., (626)793-1009.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

New Students
New students who did not receive a Welcome Week notebook may pick one up at the Office of Student Services, upstairs from the Catalyst in Kreyssler Hall.

Military Chaplaincy Opportunities
Tuesday, 10/21 @10 a.m.—2 p.m.
Chaplains from the Army and Air Force Reserves will be on the Garth October 21, 1997, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to present chaplaincy opportunities in the military. For further information, contact Gwen Ingram in the Office of Field Education, Carnell Hall, at (626)584-5377.

C.S. Lewis Society
Wednesday, 10/15 @ 7:30 p.m.
The Southern California C.S. Lewis Society meets on the third Wednesday of each month (excluding December and summer months) at 7:30 p.m. Join us on October 15 as we hear Paul Ford, a founder of the Society, discuss “The Spiritual Journey of C.S. Lewis: Regress & Progress of a Fellow Pilgrim.” This meeting will be held in Travis Auditorium.

City of Angels Film Festival
11/7—11/9
Volunteers needed to sell tickets in the Garth (during lunch the two weeks prior to the festival); spread the word (tell a few friends and hang a poster); and lend a hand during either of the showings (host will-call ticket table, seating, and general assistance). For every two hours volunteered, you will get to see a great movie, perhaps meet the producer/director/cast-types, engage in stimulating theology-in-film discussions, and get a deeply satisfying feeling by bringing Christ to our culture. Call Raedorah Stewart Dodd (626)584-5591.

New Evening Advising Hours!
The School of Theology Academic Advising office is pleased to announce that for the fall quarter it will be having Evening Advising Hours! Each Tuesday from 5—7 p.m. advising sessions will be available for appointments. If you work during the day and usually can’t make it when the office is open, be sure to take advantage of this new service.

Do You Have a MasterCard from the Pasadena Schools Federal Credit Union?
Due to an unprecedented amount of fraudulent activity in the use of MasterCard credit cards, authorization to use the card is prohibited in the following countries: Australia, China, Hong Kong, Indonesia, Japan, Korea (North and South), Malaysia, Morocco, Singapore, Taiwan, and Turkey. The exception in these areas will be ATM authorization; withdrawals cannot exceed $200.00 per day. These restrictions will remain in effect indefinitely.

Looking for a Job/Call?
Sample of current openings: Senior pastor for a growing congregation; pianist/organist for a church in the area; part-time youth director; full-time secretarial position with competitive salary and benefits; earn $8—$10 an hour by running occasional errands for an elderly person; and MUCH more! Visit Career Services, located in Carnell Hall.

Calling All Singers!
The Fuller Chapel Choir sings a variety of anthems for Wednesday Chapels, with rehearsals each Wednesday from 11 to 12 in the choir room at the First Congregational Church. Christmas music will include Handel’s Messiah. Choral scholarships are available. Call Dr. Harms, Choir Director, at (909)244-6303, or show up at the first Wednesday rehearsal.

JUBILEE

The upcoming Jubilee events will draw visitors and alumni from around the world. The planning committees have set aside two hours on Wednesday, October 16, for prayer groups on the Mall. Please join us from 12—2 p.m. as we seek God’s face together.

The SEMI would also like to encourage the Fuller community to be reading, re-reading, and reflecting on the Old Testament passages in Leviticus 25 about the Jubilee this week in preparation for next week’s celebration.
