"CHAPEL: A FULLER SERVICE OF WORSHIP"

The Ten O'Clock Events For The Week
Pasadena Presbyterian Church Sanctuary

MONDAY
March 3
Prayer and Fellowship Groups --
(See "Items of Interest" for listing of individual groups.)

TUESDAY
March 4
Jim Wallis, Director of Sojourners, and well-known advocate of Christian social concerns, will be our preacher for the morning. Today is Community Day, with all offices and the Library closed.

WEDNESDAY
March 5
Jim Wallis will again be our preacher. It is a pleasure to welcome Mr. Wallis to our campus, and we look forward to hearing him speak.

THURSDAY
March 6
Praises. As we prepare for the end of the quarter, let us not forget to take time to thank God for His many blessings. Inspiring words and music will make our time together meaningful and worthwhile.

FRIDAY
March 7
The Great Commission Company, a special musical group from Campus Crusade for Christ, will be heard in concert. It is a privilege to have this group with us today.

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not rely on your own insight. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths. Be not wise in your own eyes; fear the Lord, and turn away from evil. It will be healing to your flesh and refreshment to your bones."

-- Proverbs 3:5-8 (RSV)

Financial aid applications for the 1980-81 academic year are now available from the Financial Aid Office, or from Diane Hollis, 2nd floor of Student Services. Please do not apply for aid unless you really need it. The application serves both loan/grants and NDSL's. The deadline for returning applications is March 31, 1980. (Claire Wartenberg, x. 196)

Financial aid resource listings are available for your research in the Financial Aid Office. Come and browse...you may find something helpful for you. (Claire Wartenberg, x. 196)
Three scholarship deadlines are approaching. They are: the Rotary Club, for overseas study (before March 1); the American College Scholarship Program (March 10); and, the Fuller financial aid application (March 31). Information and applications are available in the Financial Aid Office. (Claire Wartenberg, x. 196)

Please welcome the Doctor of Ministry participants listed at the back of the SEMI. Take time to greet some of these Christian leaders. These students have come for the seminar, "Principles and Procedures of Church Growth," taught by Peter Wagner, and the course, "American Church Growth," taught by Peter Wagner and Carl George. They will be on campus March 3-14, 1980. If you would like to contact a specific individual, you may do so through the Continuing Education Office at the back of Slessor Hall. (Terry Aaron, x. 190)

All June graduates should come to the Academic Advising Office immediately to complete an "Intent to Graduate" form, in order that you may be cleared and placed on the graduation list. (Sue Jones, x. 289)

In order to register for Spring Quarter, all students must have their Bookstore accounts under $100, and have nothing which is past due more than sixty days. Students may check at the Bookstore for the current status of their account. (Kjersti Shoemaker, x. 197)

The Westminster Press book sale, with 30% discounts on all books, is on now! Pick up an order form from the Bookstore, if you did not receive one in your mailbox. Deadline for turning in order forms is March 10. (Kjersti Shoemaker, x. 197)

Do you have friends considering seminary training? Fuller Theological Seminary would like to invite them to visit our campus on "Campus Visitation Day," Friday, April 11. This one-day event will provide opportunities for dialogue with administrators, admissions personnel, and faculty members. It will feature classroom experiences, times for fellowship with professors, staff, and students, and a worship service with the Fuller community. Hopefully, this day will give a glimpse of what seminary life is all about, and expose people to a wide range of options for future ministry. Invitations and information are available in the Advising Office. Or, clip and return the coupon below to Cecil M. Robeck, Jr., box 120. (Ann E. Lausch, x. 156)

Interviews for members of the 1980-81 Faith Renewal Team are now being conducted. If you have not already applied, pick up an application form from the Faith Renewal Team Office (Building 150, Room 103). (Jan Gathright, x. 293)

The text of "Psychotherapy and Religious Values," the recent Integration lecture of Dr. Allen E. Bergin, Psychologist from Brigham Young University, is now available for purchase in the Bookstore. (Newt Malony, x. 226)
Do you have a concern about something you’d like to see happen at Fuller, or a change that you believe is needed? I failed to mention in last week's ASC Newsletter that the primary concern of the new Student Executive Committee is to receive and process such requests. Tell your Graduate Union Cabinet President (Psychology -- Alan Tjeltveit, box 1268; School of World Mission -- George Adekeye, box 1032; Theology -- Rob Caudillo, box 998), or your All-Seminary Council President (Harold Otterlei, box 202). We think you will find us jumping at the chance to serve you. (Harold Otterlei, box 202)

Interested in participating in a small group next quarter? Sign up at Registration for an evening group (7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.). Don’t miss out on this rich experience of giving and receiving. (Susan Highleyman, box 951, 792-8835)

Theology students who will be graduating in June, 1980, please identify yourselves! The Theology Graduate Union needs to know who you are in order that they may send you some important information regarding the Senior Theology Graduation Dinner, and get some feedback from you. Please fill out the information slip below, and return it to the T.G.U. Cabinet as soon as possible. (Rob Caudillo, box 998)

Fuller Fund time is here again! During Spring Quarter Registration, we will be asking for contributions to the Fuller Fund. The money is divided into four funds: 40% of the fund goes to the Mission Internship Program (for sending Fuller students on summer cross-cultural missions); 20% goes to the Ethnic-American Fund (for ethnic-American students here at Fuller); 20% goes to Human Concerns internships (for summer work in areas of social action, political and urban ministry); and, 20% goes to the support of the Office of Christian Community Interns. A small contribution goes a very long way when we all give! Thanks! (Elaine Lyford, box 707)

Cassette tapes of the following Winter Quarter classes are available for students to purchase: "Romans" (Leon Morris); "God, Revelation, & Authority" (Carl Henry); "Church Renewal & Evangelism" (David Watson); "Community of Faith" (Jim Wallis); "Theology of the Family" (Anderson/Guernsey); "Divine Reconciliation & Incarnation of God" (Ray Anderson); "Social Ethics" (Lewis Smedes); and, "New Testament Spirituality" (Robert Mey). Greek, Hebrew, and Systematic Theology I, II, and III, are also available. (Media Services, x. 172)

If you have recently had a baby and are on Fuller's insurance policy, it is necessary to send a note of verification to the insurance company, and to make sure that your child is on the policy. A xerox copy of the verification statement should also be on file in the Health Office. (Vicki Van Horn, x. 294)

Did you know that 52 Fuller families are now receiving a 50% reduction on their childrens' health care...that close to 100 persons have had their teeth cleaned and x-rayed at a 60% savings...that $20,000 of unpaid insurance claims have been monitored, requiring the insurance company to reimburse students... that a relationship has been established with a local health care facility which gives Fuller students up to a 65% reduction on health services...and...that the services of local dentists and oral surgeons have been obtained for the Fuller community at a 50% savings. If you like what is happening through the Health Service Office, will you not consider making a donation during Registration so these services can be maintained and others negotiated. The office will only remain open as long as donated funds are available. Thank you for your generosity in the past, which has allowed this program to remain stable. (Vicki Van Horn, x. 294)

Studying eternal security in McAlister Library in the evenings? For temporal security, come by the Security Office, located on the ground floor of the Student Center (first door on the left as you enter). We will escort you to your car or apartment, if you come by, or if you call 449-1757. We are here to assist you in whatever way we can. (Security Office, 449-1757)

Friday nights at the Catalyst are ending until further notice. We are not going to start up again until we receive direction from the Lord. Share your thoughts or visions! (Susan Highleyman, box 951, 792-8835; Sharon Hughey, 793-4440)

Low prices and top quality foods have been "discovered" by nearly one-hundred Fullerites and Pasadenaans at the Fuller Food Co-op. You, too, can become a member of the Co-op. The Co-op is open on Monday and Tuesday afternoons from 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m., in the old TV room of the Catalyst. Non-members are welcome to shop, too. (Max Seigler, box 97)

Got any old newspapers lying around? Bring them to the Catalyst on Saturday, March 1, from 10:00 a.m. to 12 noon. It's Recycling Day! (Alex Waldrop, box 608)

International Student, Inc., a Christian organization, is planning an Easter conference and sightseeing tour on April 3-6, 1980. Visit Sea World, Tijuana, and enjoy staying in an American home. At the conference, Dr. Mark Hanna will speak on the subject of, "Is There Hope For Today?" Total cost for both the conference and the tour is $20.00. (Laura Raab, x. 252)

Do you have any cooking pans, cutting knives, or cutlery to donate? The Missionary Housing Project is in need of kitchen items to help supply international students and missionaries who come from overseas. (Laura Raab, x. 252)

The pool table is finally repaired. It is available for your use seven days a week, on the third floor of the Catalyst (in the southwest corner of the floor). (All-Seminary Council President, Harold Otterlei, box 202)

Do you use the vending machines located by the mailboxes? For your information: Since last summer, the All-Seminary Council has been receiving a commission on the profits made. So, can I be so bold as to say that when you drop your money in the slot, part of it goes for a good cause? (Harold Otterlei, box 202)

Be sure to sign up for the Pasadena Athletic Club (PAC) during Registration, if you wish to use the facility next quarter. (Mark Krone, box 562)

P.A.C.'ers: The P.A.C. is losing a large number of towels. As tempting as it is to wrap your swimsuit up in a towel when it's wet, please, please do not! Should you feel exhorted, you may quietly return the towels residing in your abode the next time you frequent the P.A.C. Your diligence and exemplary behavior will help secure future use of the P.A.C. (Sports Commissioner, box 562)

P.A.C.'ers: It would be a nice gesture to take a few minutes to write Mark Richards, the owner/director of the P.A.C., a note expressing how the Club has enriched your lives and ministries. (Mark Krone, box 562)
Meeting someone to exercise at the P.A.C.? Why not share a ride? We must cut down on the number of Fuller cars at the P.A.C. Our filling in the "dead times" are desired; overflowing the peak times may result in cutbacks in the number of students allowed in the club. Help me these next two weeks as I negotiate for next quarter's usage by sharing rides and continuing to be fine examples of Christian behavior. (Sports Commissioner, box 562)

A ski trip is being planned to Mammoth or to Park City/Alta/Snowbird. The group will leave on the afternoon of March 14, and will return on the evening of March 19. Approximate cost will be $150-200, including lodging, lift tickets, and taxes. More details will be provided upon inquiry. (Sports Commissioner, box 562)

Volleyball enthusiasts: Intramural volleyball will continue through the Spring Quarter. Sign-ups begin next week; watch the Intramural bulletin board. (Sports Commissioner, box 562)

Football players: If you still have one of the football jerseys, please return it immediately. If you really want to keep it, you will need to pay for it. (Sports Commissioner, box 562)

Fuller has been invited to participate in Biola's Intramural Wrestling Tournament on April 12. If you know anything about the basics of wrestling, then this tourney is for you! Sign-ups end Monday, March 24 (the Monday following Spring Break). See the Intramural bulletin board for more details. (Sports Commissioner, box 562)

Fuller will be sending a basketball team to the Azusa Pacific Basketball Tournament on March 14-15. Come out and support the team as they play the likes of Talbot, Westmont, Biola, and LIFE Bible College. Game times will be announced as they become available. (Sports Commissioner, box 562)

An opening for a secretary/receptionist is available in the Academic Advising Office. Good interpersonal skills are required, and general office experience is desired. See Diane Hollis, 2nd floor of Student Services. (Student Services, x. 156)

An opening for a full-time order/word processor is available in the Department of Church Growth, Fuller Evangelistic Association. Good typing and spelling skills are required, although they will train you on the word processor. (Kurt Eisentraut, 449-0425)

From the All-Seminary Council President, Harold Otterlei, and Vice-President, Elaine Lyford:

To the Students of Fuller Theological Seminary.

Last fall, we struggled with some inconsistencies we believed we could see in us as students. Elaine Lyford and I compiled our thoughts on it and we used it in the student body president's report to the Board of Trustees last October. The following is a portion of that report. After you read it, we'd be interested in hearing your reaction to what we've said. Do you agree with it? Disagree? Does this upset you? Does it strike you as "business as usual?" We are really interested in hearing your feedback. Is this an accurate picture? Where do we go from here?

There are signs that some things are amiss at Fuller. I believe the causes of these signs are two-fold and inter-related: financial stress and a low level of spiritual and social growth among some students. I will mention two signs I have observed as examples. The library had to put in a security system a year ago to cut down on the theft of books. Since that time, articles have been excised out of professional journals. Also, students have had their new textbooks stolen out of the library. Of a more serious nature, there are apparently a lot of unhealthy marriages at Fuller. Divorce is not uncommon among our students. Are such problems caused by our financial crunch and related lack of time? The whole community suffers because of it: academically, spiritually, emotionally, corporately and individually. Too much energy and time are spent on just paying the bills. If this were not the case, we could be freed to develop in other dimensions.

Some of us students are quite concerned about what such problems reflect about our community. We want to do things that will help develop the spirituality of our student body. But nobody has the time, it seems. The School of World Mission has started a significant effort to bring their students and faculty together in small groups for prayer. The Office of Christian Community has contributed in the same sphere.

However, we need to ask ourselves as an institution: Is the present process here at Fuller adequate enough to become the kind of women and men of God and servants of Christ that we need to be for the world out there? I have reason to doubt. Our focus is on academics and that is important. However, because of the high costs of tuition and living, students are even neglecting this aspect. When there is time, studying is the only thing that gets done. If one has the option of studying for an exam or finishing a paper versus going to chapel, taking time for devotions, or doing something creative, the latter gets eliminated by time. We graduate and march out with our degrees under our arms. But are we prepared? Do we really know God? Do we know how to pray? Are we ready to lay down our lives for our brothers and sisters?

As we all know, the scene in America is changing rapidly. People are not as academically and scientifically minded as they have been in the past. There is a spiritual hunger in the hearts of many. Do we know how to relate to the needs of these people and reach them where they are? John Stott had strong words to the church regarding its lack of meaningful worship. Do we as seminarians know how to worship God? If we don't, ought we to be learning how to do that at Fuller so that we can go out as well-prepared people who know what it means to take their tasks seriously in terms of study; who know what it means to know God, to pray, to worship meaningfully, to have compassion for the broken-hearted, the destitute and the poor?

We as an institution must continually re-evaluate ourselves. We must ask bottom-line questions. We must not only ask, how can we improve on a good thing? But we must also ask, is what we are doing the best thing? I am not making an indictment against us, rather I am challenging us to not be comfortable and satisfied. I am challenging us to ask hard questions. I pray to God that we might answer these questions affirmatively. Let us hope so.

The ten year plans of all three deans and the provost written for the Coordinating Committee for Long Range Planning show a keen awareness for the need of the Seminary to move in the direction of spiritual formation. The Facilities Committee, Development Committee and various reports have also demonstrated concern for the financial duress of the student. I believe the two go hand-in-hand. We could have a beautiful set-up for spiritual formation with no one to participate. On the other hand, we could have excellent financial aid with no depth of spiritual growth. They must in a sense foster each other. Our efforts must pursue both tracks for the continual qualitative growth and integrity of this institution.

May the Lord help us in these tasks. Nothing is too difficult for God.

Why not take a moment right now and jot down your reactions and send them to us (box #92) or put it on the Board of Declaration. We need your input.

NEW ARRIVALS AT THE BOOKSTORE include:

John Gray, The Biblical Doctrine of the Reign of God -- a fresh attempt to trace this theme through the Old Testament, intertestamental period and New Testament, by a scholar from the University of Aberdeen, Scotland.

Ernst Wurthwein, The Text of the Old Testament -- the standard introduction to Old Testament textual criticism, newly translated from the German.

Nestle-Aland, Novum Testamentum Graece -- the all-new 26th edition has arrived! This indispensable text for New Testament scholars represents not a revision of the old Nestle, but a newly reconstructed text incorporating the latest text-critical insights. It has been set in a new type font with new paragraphing, highlighting individual pericopes, and with lyrical passages set in verse form. The textual apparatus has been improved and the cross-references simplified.

Graham Hughes, Hebrews and Hermeneutics, SNTSMS 36 -- argues that the major concern of the author has been to achieve a theological understanding of the relationship between the now outmoded forms and institutions of OT worship and those of the new Christian faith.

Ernest L. Martin, The Birth of Christ Recalculated! (paper) the director of the Pasadena-based Foundation for Biblical Research presents the thesis that Jesus was born in 2 B.C.

Ned B. Stonehouse, The Witness of the Synoptic Gospels to Christ (paper) -- a reprint of two important books by the late professor of NT at Westminster Theological Seminary, which were ahead of their time in their holistic (redaction-critical) approach to the Gospels.

John C. Kirby, Ephesians: Baptism and Pentecost -- draws on Jewish liturgical materials and the Johannine literature to cast light on this Deutero-Pauline work.

Raimundo Panikkar, Myth, Faith and Hermeneutics -- son of a Hindu father and a Spanish Roman Catholic mother with three earned doctorates (chemistry, theology and philosophy), Panikkar is uniquely equipped to bridge the gap between East and West.

B.F. Westcott, The Bible in the Church (paper) -- a reprint of this classic work on the formation of the canon.

Frederick B. Artz, The Mind of the Middle Ages (paper) -- the third revised edition of this text on medieval history.

P.H. Barrett (ed.), The Collected Papers of Charles Darwin (paper) -- very helpful for understanding the development of Darwin's thought.

James W. Fowler and Robin W. Lovin, Trajectories in Faith (paper) -- the life stories of Malcolm X, Anne Hutchinson, Blaise Pascal, Ludwig Wittgenstein, and Dietrich Bonhoeffer.

Charles H. Kraft and Tom N. Wisley (ed.), Readings in Dynamic Indigeneity (paper) -- essays by the leading theorists in the problems and possibilities of cross-cultural communication of the gospel.

God's Design for the Family (paper) -- four new booklets from the Navigators, suitable for individual or group study dealing with Husbands and Wives, Parents and Children, Living with God, and Influencing Society.

C.S. Lewis, Studies in Medieval and Renaissance Literature (paper) -- the technical side of Lewis.

Ronald L. Kotesky, Psychology from a Christian Perspective (paper) -- an evangelical psychologist struggles with the problems of integration.

Howard Brody, M.D., Placebos and the Philosophy of Medicine -- clinical and ethical aspects of placebo therapy.
