Do you need information on psychology or related disciplines? Come to McAlister Library and conduct a free search using the PsycLIT on SilverPlatter (TM) compact disc. With a minimum of keystrokes, you can search this user-friendly database to locate particular journal articles by author, subject descriptors, keywords, journal name, classification code, publication date, population, or language or any combination of these items. Your retrieval can then be copied on your pre-formatted floppy disk.

PsycLIT on SilverPlatter (TM) is a cooperative venture of the American Psychological Association and SilverPlatter (TM) Information, Inc. The database, mastered on two compact discs, covers over 1400 journals from approximately 45 countries. It contains bibliographic citations, full abstracts, and indexing from APA's Thesaurus of Psychological Index Terms for all journal articles covered in Psychological Abstracts from 1974 to the present.

PsycLIT on SilverPlatter (TM) utilizes new CD-ROM technology that allows up to 550 megabytes (the equivalent of 1500 floppy discs) of information to be encoded on a single disc. The compact disc is read by a CD-ROM drive, connected to an IBM-PC. Search software running on the IBM-PC instructs the CD-ROM drive to access the compact disc, providing rapid retrieval of complex search requests.

PsycLIT on SilverPlatter (TM) provides users with the capabilities and speed of an online search, but without the online connect and telecommunications fees. To speed up the way you do research, come try out PsycLIT on SilverPlatter (TM). Reservations are required. Sign up at Reference desk.
