COMMUNITY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Congratulations to Daniel and Margo Metzger on the birth of Patrick Daniel on October 17. Patrick weighed 7 lb. 11¾ oz. Daniel is a first year M.Div. student in the MFM program.
NEW ARRIVALS AT THE BOOKSTORE include:

E. John Hamlin, Comfort My People: A Guide to Isaiah 40-66 (John Knox)—designed for individual and group study, this new commentary for the layperson is especially suited for use by UPUSA women in their emphasis on Deutero-Isaiah this year.

Martin Hengel, Jews, Greeks and Barbarians (Fortress)—the essence of Hengel's massive Judaism and Hellenism with the addition of his latest insights on the subject.

W.D. Davies, Paul and Rabbinic Judaism (Fortress)—the long-awaited reprint of Davies' classic work, with a new preface in which he interacts with the latest literature on Paul (esp. E.P. Sanders).

Roy A. Harrisville, Romans, Augsburg Commentary on the New Testament (Augsburg)—the first in a new commentary series written for the intelligent layperson and the pastor by a Lutheran scholar well at home in the contemporary NT debate.

Thomas J.J. Altizer, Total Presence: The Language of Jesus and the Language of Today (Seabury)—a "death-of-God" theologian of the past decade offers a new thesis which posits a negative God who is historically realized in the birth and ultimate death of a uniquely Western interiority and individuality of consciousness.

Gerhard Ebeling, The Nature of Faith (Fortress)—a reprint of this important German theologian's non-technical exposition of the essence of Christianity.

Jacques Ellul, The Technological System (Seabury)—the well-known French lawyer and theologian uses modern system theory to make a new analysis of world technology.

George Lakoff, Metaphors We Live By (University of Chicago)—linguistic and philosophical implications of our use of metaphors in everyday life.

Thomas A. Breslin, China, American Catholicism, and the Missionary (Penn State)—how the missionaries unintentionally contributed to the revolutionary impulses of the Chinese in the early 20th century.

Robert Rankin (ed.), The Recovery of Spirit in Higher Education (Seabury)—a Danforth Foundation sponsored study on the nurturing of spirituality in institutions of higher education, with an essay by our seminary president, David Hubbard.
Bookstore (Continued)

Peter Rowlands, Saturday Parent: A Book for Separated Families (Seabury)--how the "other" parents can keep in touch with their children.

Elaine Tyler May, Great Expectations: Marriage and Divorce in Post-Victorian America (University of Chicago)--the author's thesis is that the increased breakdown of marriages comes from higher expectations of modern married couples.

Edward E. Ericson, Jr., Solzhenitsyn: The Moral Vision (Eerdmans)--the Nobel prize-winner's literary output is analyzed with a view to discovering the Christian foundations behind his work.
